Monarch's Power To Sit on Several Thrones Debated

British Commonwealth Relations Conference Is Worried Over Problems of Peace and War Arising From New Doctrine of Equality of Dominions' Status

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP).—Is the King one or is he several? In other words, can the King be at war and at peace at the same time? This was one of the questions aired today by the British Commonwealth Relations Conference.

It is a question which has been argued and debated for years by eminent constitutional lawyers, and the conference disposed of it for the time being by referring it to a committee of lawyers for a report.

A NEW PROBLEM
Under the new doctrine of equality of status of the Dominions with the United Kingdom, the problem of war and its possible effects on the Empire is regarded by the delegates as of vital importance. Some delegates took the view that the completely self-governing nations of the Empire had really resolved themselves into six separate and independent kingdoms with a common sovereign and that the King's acts as King of Canada need have no relation to his acts as King of the United Kingdom or of Australia.

Thus, the King of Canada might declare war on a foreign power while the King of Australia remained friendly.

ALL MUST BE IN
Another group contended there was ground for holding no part of the Empire could enter into a war without its being recommended by His Majesty by the ministers of all the different governments. This view, if adopted, would make unnecessary a consideration of possibility of one part of the Empire remaining neutral while another was at war.

In any case, however, there was general agreement among the delegates that consultation and co-operation were desirable in the Empire's international relations.

GUNFIRE MARKS HOLIDAY START

Fifteen Miners, One Sheriff Wounded at Pennsylvania Coal Fields

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 14 (AP).—Fifteen striking miners and a deputy sheriff were wounded by gunfire and more than a score were beaten today as violence flared for the second time within a month in the southwestern Pennsylvania coal fields.

"HOLIDAY" STARTS
The outbreak signalled the official start of a "holiday" voted by leaders of more than 30,000 miners to protest against delay in completion of the N.R.A. coal code, and to demand recognition of the United Mine Workers of America by the operators.

Rioting broke out at three mines of the H. C. Frick Company, United States Steel subsidiary and leading producer in the field. Eight of its mines are closed tonight and eight are reported operating.

All the shooting was at the Gates Mine, about fifteen miles west of Uniontown. Picket lines blocked en route to work. Company officials said only pumpmen, necessary to keep the mines from flooding, were reported for duty.

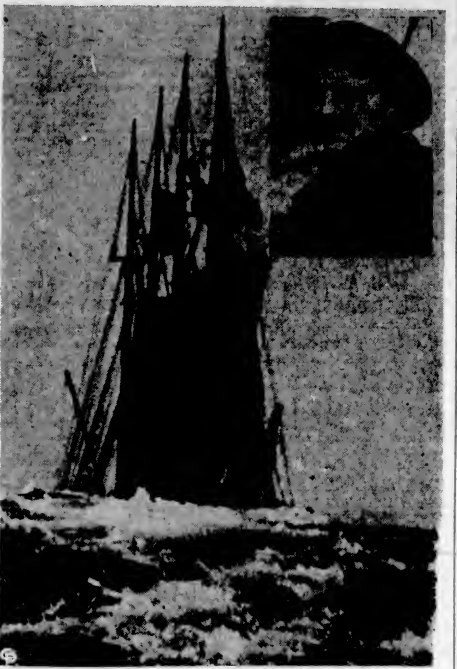

VOLLEY AFTER VOLLEY
Deputy sheriffs, in employ of the company, intervened. Tear gas bombs, sticks and stones flew, then came volley after volley of shots. Deputy Mike Outright was shot in the left arm and it was amputated in a hospital. The others wounded were miners.

The situation remained comparatively quiet tonight, with picket lines being formed at several of the eight Frick mines which operated today and several other mines which remained open. However, the situation was tense and officials were on the alert.

ACTRESS ASSESSED $75,000 DAMAGES
Claire Windsor Loses Suit—Stole Love of Oakland Broker, Court Rules
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14 (AP).—A verdict that blonde Claire Windsor of the stage and screen stole the love of Alfred C. Read, Jr., hand-some former Oakland broker, was returned today by a jury trying the damage suit of his divorced wife, Martha Young Read, who was awarded $75,000 of the $100,000 damages she asked.

Miss Windsor's attorneys said they would appeal. Mrs. Read received the verdict with both smiles and tears. Spectators applying for a chance meeting of Read and the violet-eyed actress on an east-bound transcontinental train in September, 1931.

Chartered Banks State Their Case In Twenty Briefs

Are Emphatic in Declaration Against Present Creation of Central Bank With Grave Danger of Political Influence—Suggest Administrative Board of Financial Experts

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 (CP).—Canadian chartered banks today laid their case before the Royal Commission on Banking. As a climax to weeks of intense inquiry, five general managers of Canadian banking institutions presented a score of briefs dealing with matters of vital importance to the financial life of the Dominion.

In a single day they dealt with fifty points raised and emphasized before the commission from coast to coast. Swiftly they placed upon record their views on contentious matters. Tomorrow they will be on hand for questioning, should Lord Macmillan and his four fellow commissioners desire further information.

First and foremost, the chartered banks came out definitely against creation of a central bank "in the present extremely disturbed state of business."

They stressed the danger of political influence. This danger would be present in ordinary times. But it was far more pressing now "when it was far more pressing now when years of unprecedented depression have brought dangerous currency theories into party politics, and when a quiet within the bounds of possibility some political party might gain office, pledged to carry such theories into practice."

ENDORSE PLAN FOR MARKETING

Apple Growers and Shippers Get Together to Solve Problem

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 14 (CP).—Apple growers and shippers throughout the Okanagan Valley and in Kamloops area today had endorsed a plan for orderly marketing of the apple crop.

At Kamloops today and at Salmon Arm last night growers lined up with their brethren of Vernon, Kelowna and surrounding districts in support of the "cent a pound or on the ground" campaign waged by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association.

Meanwhile at Kelowna four shippers, who had remained outside the pooling agreement, signed up to make 100 per cent effective plans for stabilization and control of the Okanagan Valley marketing situation.

WORKING OUT DETAILS
After Robert Robertson, acting on behalf of W. K. Hastings, president of the B.C.F.G.A., had explained the new apple code agreed upon by Okanagan growers and shippers to a Kamloops meeting, a resolution was passed appointing a committee to go to Vernon to confer with the joint committee of growers and shippers to work out certain details considered peculiar to the Kamloops district.

Cougar Pays Visit To Courtenay and Life Is Forfeited

COURTENAY, Sept. 14.—Early this morning Provincial Game Warden Harvey spotted a female cougar right in this city. The animal was within a few yards of three Courtenay Bridge. The game warden wisely telephoned to Cecil "Cougar" Smith, who immediately brought his dog from Comox, treed the big cat within a few paces of the Courtenay Hotel, and shot it. The animal is now in a local hardware store on display.

MINISTER TO RETAIN POST

Hon. J. W. Jones Keeps Finance Portfolio Upon Express Terms

"I am staying as a member of this Government, and I am not resigning! Further, as a member of the Government, I will take full responsibility for my share of its acts. I am prepared to speak from the platform as a member of this Administration. What happens after the election can take care of itself."

For the minister, statement speaks for itself. Hon. J. W. Jones declared yesterday, after a Cabinet meeting in which he gave full assurances to Premier Tolmie and his colleagues of the best possible position, circumstances have forced him to adopt.

Mr. Jones made it plain he will run under his own colors in Kelowna, neither as a member of one group nor of another, but as one dealing independently of party bickering and consolidation of efforts in securing the best possible administration of the affairs of British Columbia.

STAYS IN CABINET
In other words, Mr. Jones will remain as Minister of Finance in the Tolmie Administration until the election, which he holds himself free to do as he pleases in the future disposition of his allegiance.

Both the Premier and Mr. Jones announced this stand had been mutually agreed upon. The Government forces believe that there are some constituencies in which only an independent candidate can succeed, and place South Okanagan in this category.

Nothing in Mr. Jones' statement binds him to the Tolmie Administration on the one hand, nor to the Bruhn Independent platform on the other. In between the two moments he is plotting a course of his own subscribing to neither policy he announces, but also remaining in office to take his share of responsibility for the acts of the existing Administration of which he has been a leading member.

PREPARED STATEMENT
Mr. Jones' written statement was as follows:

WILL SEEK NEW UNDERSTANDING

Japanese Foreign Minister Hopes for Non-Aggression Pact With U.S.

TOKIO, Sept. 14 (AP).—A report that he will work to establish a new basis of understanding with the United States was published today by Japanese Foreign Minister, Koki Hirota, expressed belief the future is bright for friendly relations with that country's three strongest neighbors.

These three nations are the United States, China and Russia. The newspaper Nishi Nichi said Hirota intends to seek the negotiation of a new treaty with the United States embracing either a pact of non-aggression or of arbitration.

INDUCTED INTO OFFICE
Hirota was inducted into office before the Emperor at Hayama, forty miles southwest of here, the site of the Imperial Summer villa. He succeeds Yasuya Uchida, who, ostensibly resigned because of ill health, although it was pointed out that reactionary elements who had been furthering the cause of Hirota may have played a leading part.

Premier Makoto Saito revealed in a press statement that the policy of national defence has been given first place in drawing up the 1934-35 budget by cabinet agreement and that increased army and navy appropriations seemed inevitable.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 14 (CP).—Demand for the yellow metal has given a great impetus to gold mining in this country and great eagerness is shown by South Africans to subscribe to new ventures. A £200,000 issue offered a week ago, attracted subscriptions totaling £2,500,000.

Enthusiasm has been fostered by the heavy premium on bar gold, which producers have been receiving in recent months.

Dictatorship in Cuba Planned as Renewed Unrest Causes Alarm

Attendance Gains With Prices Cut
Government Announces Programme of Administration—Labor Trouble Grows More Serious—Food Shortage Worries Havana—New Revolt Reported Imminent

HAVANA, Sept. 14.—The Government of President Ramon Grau San Martin tonight announced a seven-point plan of administration for Cuba, which contained promise of a virtual although benevolent dictatorship. Simultaneously it threw the heaviest guard yet placed around Havana's Hotel Nacional, where 500 Cuban army officers, ousted in last week's enlisted men's coup, were defiantly demanding restoration of Former President de Cespedes. Machine guns were trained on four sides of the hotel.

INCREASE IS SUBSTANTIAL
Excise Collections Clearly Indicate Extent of Business Revival

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Revenue from customs, excise taxes, and duties and income tax for August shows the first substantial increase for any month during the past two years. Customs revenue was approximately the same as in August, 1932, but the excise taxes, which include the sales tax, increased from $7,585,159 to $10,197,880, which clearly indicates the extent of the business revival.

LIQUOR PAYS LESS
Excise duties decreased $305,637, due to decreased consumption of liquor at home and in export to St. Pierre for United States consumption. During the five months of the present fiscal year, the revenue from these sources is $6,804,183 less than in the corresponding period of last year. Income taxes for the same periods are $44,227,336 for this year, and $49,268,776 in 1932, a decrease of $5,041,440.

This deficit is expected to be removed in the remaining seven months. If the total revenue for the remainder of the fiscal year maintains the rate of interest shown in August, it will be somewhat larger than that obtained last fiscal year.

Province Appeals For Leniency for Distressed Owners

Government Makes Non-Political Plea for Exercise of Limit of Law's Delay in Forfeiture of Tax Default Properties

PREMIER Tolmie announced yesterday that the Province of British Columbia was moving to secure the fullest measure of relief possible under existing legislation for property owners who may be in tax default in municipal and other areas this year. The Premier further stated the Province would strengthen the hands of the Municipalities in the consolidation of tax arrears, and provide for rescission of 1933 tax sales, where already held.

The Premier said the announcement was free from political implications, and made in a genuine desire to bring relief to taxpayers in an emergent situation.

At the same time, the Province instructed the Inspector of Municipalities to urge upon municipalities the exercise of the greatest possible leniency with those in tax default through no fault of their own.

A year's extension of leeway before tax sale, passed by the Seventeenth Legislature, is the foundation of the present appeal. The Province will set the example by waiving tax sales in provincial areas, as was done last year. The official statement was as follows:

WAIVING TAX SALES
"Respecting Provincial lands under its control, the Province has not held any tax sale since September, 1931. With regard to tax sales in cities and municipalities governed by the Municipal Act, there was granted at the last session, under Section 15 of the Municipal Act Amendment Act, power to

TAX COLLECTIONS STEADILY GAINING

Nearly $100,000 in Arrears Paid to City Under New Scheme of Inducement
Collection of tax arrears has increased $10,036 over the corresponding period of last year, owing to the 50 per cent discount in penalty and interest charges given by the city to encourage payment.

To date a total of $93,163 has been collected on tax arrears, which is aggregated as follows: $55,686 on one-year arrears and $27,477 on two-year arrears.

For the same period of 1932 a total collection of $82,857 was reported, made up of $57,128 on one-year arrears, and $25,729 on two-year arrears.

City's Business

"There is no doubt that conditions are improving," declared the manager of one of the largest life insurance agencies in Victoria yesterday. "During the past two years insurance companies generally have suffered greatly due to the large number of policies surrendered for cash, borrowed upon and lapsed through inability of the assured to pay premiums. Lately, however, there has been a very noticeable decrease in the number of lapses, borrowings and surrenders. Not only that, but the people who were formerly taking out loans against their policies are now taking more life insurance, a very positive indication that they are better off."

ONE DEAD AND TWO SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

EDMONTON, Sept. 13 (CP).—One woman was killed, another is believed to be fatally injured; one man is seriously hurt, and the remaining member of the party, a man, escaped with slight injuries when a small coupe turned over four miles northwest of the city, early today.

According to meagre R.C.M.P. reports, the car is completely wrecked. Police, thus far, have not been able to identify any members of the party.

SAYS BRIDGE NOW UNSAFE

Canadian National Railways Structure on Douglas St. Declared Menace

A report that the Canadian National Railways bridge on Douglas Street is now unsafe, was presented by H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, to Saanich Council last night.

Mr. Allen, in a letter, stated that in 1921 he had communicated with the Canadian National Railways regarding the bridge and had been advised that it was safe for at least another two years.

The municipal engineer was of the opinion that the bridge at this time is unsafe for all types of traffic, and advised that the Ca-

CHARTERED BANKS STATE THEIR CASE IN TWENTY BRIEFS

However strong might be the case for a central bank, "it would undoubtedly be better for this country to have none than to have a central bank subject in any way to political pressure," was the positive assertion.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSAL

Marshalling arguments for and against the proposed central institution, in a thirty-page document, the chartered banks supplied an alternative proposal. They suggested the appointment of an administrative board "composed of experts in finance and currency and broadly representative of the business and agricultural interests of Canada" to administer the functions now performed by the Treasury Board.

A POOR BARGAIN

The benefits to be derived from the creation of a central bank would

Night School to Open October 2; Approve Courses

The Victoria Night School curriculum was endorsed at last night's meeting of the city school board, and appointment of teachers deferred to a special meeting to be held later.

The school will open on October 2 and continue until the end of March.

The courses will be the same as last year, with the exception of a few minor changes.

It is maintained that, whatever may be done in regard to the Dominion Notes Act and the Finance Act, and whatever institution may be created for the purpose of credit and currency, the sole right of note issue should not be vested in the new institution, "was the final submission on this point."

J. A. McLeod, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association and general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, led the banking delegation.

August it was $6,000,000, compared with $5,000,000 in August, 1932; but for the five months the favorable balance was $46,200,000 as against $47,700,000 for the same period in the previous fiscal year. For the five months of this fiscal year imports amount to $161,490,000 and the same amount last year $187,136,000, while exports were $207,524,025, and $191,888,000 for these respective periods.

In August when the balance was $6,656,000 from $10,942,471, but there were heavy gains in the exports of flour, fish, furs, meats, lumber, pulp, copper and nickel.

A CLEAR TWEING

Much satisfaction is expressed in Government circles over these revenue and trade figures made public today. It is felt that they indicate a clear upswing in business, and that additional taxation may be necessary. Some hope is expressed that by the time the next budget is presented, probably in February, it may be possible to remove, or at least reduce, the 2 per cent per pound tax on sugar. Government economists have been so drastic that with increased revenue the outlook for a better financial adjustment is considered promising.

FAIR PACKED AGAIN WITH THOUSANDS AS DAHLIA SHOW OPENS

space had been stressed more than ever.

"I feel that there is a need for a new building to take the dahlia exhibits. We could have filled another building such as the main auditorium with additional agricultural entries. In fact, before the Fair started, we were forced to turn away certain types of displays and applications for concessions simply because we did not have the space. A new sheep barn undoubtedly is needed, while the cattle barns should be extended."

"However, like every other department of civic service, we must curtail expenses in keeping with the times. But with an improvement in conditions we certainly will be forced to provide for the increased demands on the Exhibition plant. Every director is working sincerely toward the end that future shows will be on an even grander scale. At the same time they appreciate that economy prevents any further additions to the plant at present. When the time is opportune, however, we will not delay in improving the plant," Mr. Hawkins concluded.

FIVE SPEAKERS

Today the livestock men will hold their annual dinner at the Fair grounds. Mayor David Leeming will give the address of welcome. Premier S. F. Tolmie will speak on grain exhibits; Reeve R. W. Mayhew will speak on the Fair generally and what it means to the citizens; W. T. Strath will talk on the subject of growing seeds, and W. Ellis Brown will give a short talk on livestock.

In the evening another fine program has been arranged for the Horse Show, which will commence at 8:15 o'clock.

More than 200 entries have been received for the Highland piping and dancing contests to be held on Saturday. The First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, pipe band will be in attendance. The contests will start in the afternoon and continue through until 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

was further stressed that this constitution should be directed to the preservation of peace to a much greater extent than to talk of war.

LIBERTY AT ALL COSTS

Full liberty of action should be maintained at all costs. It was also agreed. Whatever measure of consultation or co-operation were adopted, should in no way tend to curtail the independence of the units of the Empire as outlined in the Balfour Declaration and the Statute of Westminster.

Another question canvassed was the possibility of one state of the Empire waging war in violation of the Covenant of the League of Nations or of the Pact of Paris. In such a case, other parts of the Empire would be called upon to decide whether to support the League and carry out their treaty obligations or come to the aid of a fellow British nation.

Such a situation was described as impossible by several delegates, as no countries of the Empire would be likely to take any action which would jeopardize the success of international peace machinery.

If it ever did arise, however, it was felt the situation contained

He said that Kingston Street School was located in a spot that constituted a danger to the small children who attended this institution. There were innumerable trucks going to and from the Outer Wharf that made road crossings extremely dangerous for those in the kindergarten classes, he observed.

Moresby, K.C., stated at last night's meeting of the City School Board when giving a summary of the condition of schools and grounds following the Summer vacation.

He said that Kingston Street School was located in a spot that constituted a danger to the small children who attended this institution. There were innumerable trucks going to and from the Outer Wharf that made road crossings extremely dangerous for those in the kindergarten classes, he observed.

His report of the schools and grounds in general was one of general improvement having been effected during the vacation period.

We told YOU Super Shell had everything you wanted...

"Getting almost two more miles per gallon in my 1931 Buick. And the 'ping' in the motor is all gone."

C. W. HANSON, Sacramento, Calif.

NOW-

you're telling us!

Several months ago Shell asked thousands of you motorists what you wanted in a gasoline. "More mileage" you said! "First of all—give us more mileage. Then power and quick starting and anti-knock."

So we built a new Super Shell gasoline to fit your requirements—and offered it WITHOUT THE 3 CENT PREMIUM which you motorists had always paid for Super Shell.

The response was instantaneous! Super Shell took the East by storm. It swept the West. Millions changed to it.

Perhaps you only wanted to try it—at first. But you must have liked it! And you must have passed the word along to your friends. Super Shell sales are still climbing.

Every day we get unsolicited letters from motorists praising its all-around qualities—its quick starting, its extra mileage, its anti-knock (higher than that of any other regular priced gasoline).

There are no waste parts in Super Shell. Every drop is concentrated. Every drop of it has ALL the premium qualities you motorists told us you wanted in a good gasoline—and without the 3¢ premium.

Try Super Shell. Find out what a difference its premium performance makes.

Super Shell is produced at Shellburn, B. C. Shell Oil Company of British Columbia, Ltd.

ALL WASTE PARTS REMOVED

EASY PARTS—that evaporate too soon and are wasted. Removed by SHELL.

QUICK-STARTING PARTS—that eliminate wasteful "choking." Given by SHELL.

POWER PARTS—that give your engine greater pick-up and power. Kept by SHELL.

ANTI-KNOCK PARTS—that prevent your engine from knocking in traffic and on hills. Kept by SHELL.

SLUDGING PARTS—that dilute oil. Removed by SHELL.

SUPER SHELL IS HIGHER IN ANTI-KNOCK THAN ANY OTHER GASOLINE AT A NON-PREMIUM PRICE

WITHOUT FORMER 3¢ PREMIUM

"MAN! DOES SUPER SHELL MAKE MY CAR RUN SWEET!"

CHARLES VALLIN, San Diego, Calif.

"I find since using Super Shell I secure much better mileage than with any other product I have ever used."

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery
Quick Without Cutting or Scraping

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. Go why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when MacParlane and Vancouver Drug Co. invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case.

Mrs. Bordon-Lodge—I think one chicken really ought to go around among twelve boards.

Willows Horse Show

Log Proves Objectionable Obstacle to Majority of Entrants in Class 79—Prize Cattle Parade and Team Contest Held

IN British Columbia, of all places in the world, horses should be familiar with logs and should recognize them as innocent and harmless objects. Yet, at the Horse Show at the Willows last night, entrants in Class 79, for jumpers and handy hunters, with few exceptions exhibited fright when they came to the log jump. Even such a masterly horsewoman as Mrs. D. B. Carley had to withdraw one of her mounts because it pointedly refused to negotiate the obstacle.

This event was quite the most entertaining in a programme that lacked nothing in interest. Six jumps had to be negotiated, one a three and one-half foot hurdle, topped with twelve inches of brush, then a picket fence, an in-and-out pig pen, four-foot post and rails, the offending log, and a table with a dummy red-coated man lying on top. There was good excuse for the laughing disgust with which some of the horses, notably Lancer, from the Shawigan Riding Acadsilver cup and the Victoria Riding Academy prize, also created some amusement. Eida, entered by the Shawigan Riding Academy, provoked general laughter by tossing her rider at the first fence, then, riderless, crossing to the second fence and jumping it alone. Rosie, ridden by Miss J. Forbes, cleared all four jumps faultlessly, and they carried off going.

Class 84, the last event on the programme, was devoted merely to display performance over fences, and a few minutes, filled the whole parade space of the Horse Show Building with the finest specimens of cattle that have been brought to the fair. It was a fine sight, and was greeted with generous applause.

The six-horse team contest was again watched with lively sympathy. There seemed little distinction on which to pin an adjudication, both the Crystal Dairy and the Thorburn Transfer Company's teams being magnificent in conformation, manner and equipment. Driven by Alex Webster, the former, which was eventually the winner, represented 2,000 pounds in each of the wheel teams, the other four horses weighing about 1,850 pounds each; and the Thorburn team, driven by himself, being about the same weight, 2,000 pounds for each of the wheel teams, and 1,700 pounds each for the four horses.

THE RESULTS

The results of the various events followed:

Class 52, six-horse teams, each horse to weigh 1,400 pounds or over—1, Crystal Dairy, Vancouver; 2, R. Thorburn Transfer, Vancouver.

Class 73, road horse, mare or gelding not over 15.2 hands; judged for conformation, soundness, style, and way of going, paces, walk, trot and canter—1, Seaman, Ch. G. Russell's Riding Academy; 2, Tallman, Ch. G. Mrs. J. Macallan; 3, Bianco, W.O. Miss B. Winslow.

Class 78, children's jumping class (open), competitors under sixteen years of age; four jumps of 3 ft. 6 ins.—1, (winning prize given by Mrs. Dugald Gillespie), Ebony, Bk. M., Ian Ross; 2, (winning prize given by Victoria Riding Academy), Rosie, B.M., Miss J. Forbes.

Class 79, jumpers, handy hunters (sponsored by T. W. Hawkins and W. H. Means); best performance over six jumps; one hurdle 3 ft. 6 ins., timber-topped, 12 ins. brush; one 4-ft. post and rails, one log, one in-and-out pig pen, 4-ft.; one picket fence, one table with bench on each side and dummy—1, Buckskin Bob, G. Miss D. Hogan; 2, Nevada, Ch. G. Miss J. Rithet; 3, Tarasen, Ch. G. Mrs. T. K. Matthews.

Class 84, jumping class (sponsored by Dr. Thomas Mercer); performance over fences only to count, two post and rail jumps, 4 ft. 6 ins. twice—1, Irish Jury, Ch. M. Miss M. Whyte; 2, Nevada, Ch. G. Miss J. Rithet; 3, Beggar Boy, B.O. Mrs. D. B. Carley.

"From many quarters I have been asked what position I shall take in the forthcoming provincial election. My position is simple. I shall seek election free of all party ties, for I am still of the opinion expressed some months ago, that the time has come for us to lay aside party politics, at least during the present period of stress, in favor of a policy of British Columbia first, and that a government should be formed of those who are prepared to work together to that end.

"The Legislature has been dissolved and the Government of the day lapses, except that individual ministers, like myself, carry on the various departments until their successors are appointed. In my case it has been necessary to arrange important financial transactions, sell bonds, provide for current expenses and carry on the ordinary day-by-day financial functions of Government. The ministry of finance cannot cease to function for a single minute, therefore I feel that I must stand loyal by the trust imposed upon me until the election has been held.

PARTY OVERBOARD

"Apart from these essential duties, which cannot be allowed to lapse, I have been paying a great deal of attention to the possibility of a strong government untrammelled by party fetters emerging out of the election, with party warfare, and its attendant continual bickering and practices leading to waste of public funds definitely put aside. My observations lead me to believe that such a government can be achieved and that only by such a government can the difficulties of this period be met.

"After the election, if those desiring of working together for the good of British Columbia, and without party affiliations are in a majority, they should meet and elect a leader. There could be no possible strings attached beforehand to the leadership, for it would go to the man whom those elected members considered best suited for the post. That leader would then be free to choose his colleagues, whatever their previous affiliations had been, and whatever label they had fought under.

NON-POLITICAL GOVERNMENT

"Thus the only means of attaining this end is for the people to elect the best available man in each constituency, the man with the best personal record and the most forward-looking policy, regardless of his party or his former political affiliations. Then these men will be free after the poll to choose a leader and establish a government truly representative of all classes and all interests in our population.

"After the poll, should I be elected, I shall support for the leadership the very best man available, regardless of his party affiliations.

"Personally, I shall advocate during the campaign, and in the next legislature, if I am elected, several important reforms, the need of which has become apparent in recent times:

(1) Unemployment insurance on a national basis, with contributions from both employer and employee, to replace our present chaotic system of unemployment.

(2) A system of health insurance to assure adequate medical and hospital care for our people.

(3) An adequate system of land settlement.

(4) An entirely new system of marketing agricultural produce on an orderly basis with the power of the law behind it.

(5) Reduction of taxation through abolition of waste.

(6) A highway commission.

A new policy designed to encourage the activity in mining which is now getting under way, to attract further capital into our mines and thus provide a large increase in employment opportunities for our people.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRST

"We are facing difficult times. While improvement seems to have set in, we have a long, hard pull ahead of us. If we pull together, forgetting old enmities and realizing that we are all British Columbians before we are adherents of any party, then I believe we can form a government which, in all things, will stand for British Columbia first.

"The entire issue of the elections, as I see it, is whether we are to create such a government or to dissipate our energies and our resources in the political warfare of the past. I believe the people of British Columbia will choose to rally together in this time of common stress and meet their problems shoulder to shoulder."

The Cabinet cleaned up another issue yesterday, when it heard from the lips of N. S. Loughheed, former Minister of Works and Lands, that he had not attended meetings of the new independent group held recently in Vancouver, as incorrectly stated in some quarters.

LONGER LUNCH
PERIOD SOUGHT

City School Board Takes
Hour and Half Period
Under Consideration

Extension of the school luncheon period from one hour to one hour and a half came up for discussion at last night's meeting of the city school board, and eventually was referred to George H. Dean, municipal school inspector, and the principals for report.

The debate was precipitated by a letter from R. A. Gurney, in which it was contended that an hour was not sufficient time for children to go home and return for luncheon, and at the same time perform those duties, such as cleaning teeth, washing and returning leisurely to school, as required for the best health of the pupil.

Trustees Victor Emery, P. E. George and Col. T. B. Monk championed the cause of the extension of time, while trustees W. C. Moresby, J. L. Beckwith, J. M. Campbell, and Mr. Deane urged that the board move carefully in the matter.

ADOPTED ELSEWHERE

The supporters felt that at least an extra fifteen minutes should be allowed, and the study period extended either at the close of the day or by starting school earlier in the morning. Most provinces had the hour and a half luncheon period, it was stated, while most private schools in Victoria adopted this practice.

Those seeking deeper consideration of the matter pointed out that after-school activities might be disrupted, and that in the winter months later dismissal of students would shorten the period of sports.

Wilmer Allison
Squares Series
With Australia

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Sept. 14 (AP).—Wilmer Allison, captain of the United States team, squared the exhibition tennis series with Australia's Davis Cup stars, at Onawentia, today, by defeating Don Turnbull in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. Each team now has won two matches.

Allison mastered Turnbull's cannonball service with increasing ease, and scored many points on sparkling overhead smashes and sharply angled volleys.

SPEAKING FOR THE DEPOSITORS

It is refreshing to know that at least one witness before the Macmillan Banking Commission spoke in favor of the depositors whose claims to consideration are easily the most serious of all since their money is at stake. The depositor, in fact, in the basis of the whole banking system. It is he who supplies the money that the banker lends. It is his money that those who advocate the socialization of banks want to secure. It is his hard work and thrift which make it possible for loans to be effected. He puts his money in the banks for safe keeping and he has found that keeping very safe under the Canadian banking system. It is axiomatic that the depositors, those most closely concerned, are unwilling that any change of a radical character should be made in Canada's Bank Act.

The witness who pointed to the stake of the depositors was Mr. Donald M. Rowat, and the surprising thing is that at least ninety per cent of all those who gave evidence before the Banking Commission were not those who acted for the depositors whose money is at stake. Those who advocate socialization of the banking system want to provide methods whereby the banks will lend more freely, when governed by politicians. The only money, however, which can be lent is that of the depositors, and most assuredly it is they who, in the last analysis, and all the time for that matter, should be consulted. The banks are merely the managers of other people's money, not their own. They must insure that loans are only made with the most rigid safeguards. That is exactly what they have been doing and that is why our banks have ridden triumphantly through the recent depression. This is a situation which would be most unlikely to prevail under political control of the banks. Politicians, as has been evidenced so often, pursue their course with spendthrift zeal. Those advocating the socialization of banks want to do with the private means of people what politicians do with what they extract through the medium of taxes. It is a far, far better way as it stands at present because it is an economic, not a political way. It is better to have experts safeguarding the money of depositors than politicians, elected to power by the whims of fluctuating public opinion.

RAILWAY ECONOMIES

The ultimate goal of the co-operation now being displayed between the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways is the performance of a transportation service in the most economic way. The railways, according to Mr. S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National, are concentrating their efforts on economies. By degrees they are eliminating the destructive deficits of the past few years. Competition between the two transcontinentals is being checked. Instances of this are seen in the pool services between Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal and in the new pick-up and delivery services which use local truck companies to feed the railways. The railways, too, are co-ordinating in their terminal services, establishing joint agencies, and, to some extent, using each other's lines and facilities.

Despite all this there is much that remains to be done. That much has been outlined and agreed upon to a great extent between the two companies, but actual action is being held in abeyance pending the appointment of the Board of Trustees to administer the Canadian National. That appointment has been delayed too long in the interests of economy. The present administration of the Canadian National will, seemingly, not assume the responsibility of agreeing to all the economies negotiated between the transcontinentals and is awaiting the appointment of the Board of Trustees. In the interests of the finances of the country such an appointment should be made without delay.

COMPULSORY VOTING

The Federal Liberals seem to have borrowed some of the policies of coercion advocated by their radical rival, the Canadian Commonwealth Federation. They have been discussing electoral reform and advocating compulsory voting. This is something that is hardly consonant with a free people. It would be the negation of social, individual and political liberty. Voting is undoubtedly a patriotic duty, a duty of citizenship, but to force men and women to the polls is opposed to responsible government which is a British institution. It would be a sorry day if non-voting were declared a misdemeanor.

At the Liberal conference at Port Hope one proposal made was that there should be a poll tax imposed on those who register to vote, to be returned when the vote is recorded. That is a naive proposal. For one thing a poll tax is among the most unpopular of imposts. For another thing voting is merely a moral obligation and if made compulsory would doubtless result in many people growing restless under such coercion, and, perhaps, in large bodies, refusing to be dragged into the polls.

FEELING HOT

A professor of physiology in the University of London has been explaining why people feel hot, and hotter under certain conditions even when the temperature may be falling. Dr. Samson Wright, the professor in question, points out that the organ that tells you about temperature is the skin, and without a skin you would have no sensation of temperature at all. In other words, it is the special temperature sense organs that lie in the skin that send the messages of heat or cold.

Dr. Wright refers to the well-known fact that a person who is in the first stage of fever, when his temperature is rapidly rising may feel exceedingly cold and shiver violently. On the other hand, he says, a person who "blushes furiously" may feel very hot although the body temperature is unaltered. There appears to be a complex set of specialized nerve endings in the skin, some of which respond to marked degrees of cold and others to marked degrees of warmth, and a third set which seem able to distinguish between intermediate degrees of temperature. Not very much is known of the structure of these nerve endings. "Roughly speaking," writes Dr. Wright, "we can say that the temperature of the skin will depend on the cooling power of the air with which it is in contact and the heating power of the blood flowing through it. The temperature of the body is usually considerably higher than that of the outside air, and as the blood is flowing through the skin it warms it up, and the more blood you have flowing through, the higher becomes the temperature of the skin and the greater the subjective sensation of heat. The relation of clothing to the question is self evident. The more freely large areas of the skin can be exposed to the air the greater will be the loss of heat through the skin and the cooler we shall feel. Everyone knows the enormous increase in comfort that takes place when we remove the collar we are wearing and open the shirt."

FEDERATION IN WEST INDIES

Confederation for the West Indies Islands, that are a part of the British Empire, is an accomplishment that is unlikely to mature. Its possibility has been examined by Sir Charles Ferguson and Sir Charles Orr, as Commissioners, and as an outcome of their investigation they have merely proposed that the Windward and Leeward Islands should be regarded as a single colony to be known as the British Caribbean Islands under a Governor to reside at St. Lucia. At present the Leeward Islands form a loose federation under a Governor, while the Windward Islands—Grenada, St. Vincent and St. Lucia—have a single Governor but separate administrations.

The problem regarding federation of all the British West Indies is one perhaps insurmountable. The islands are scattered. They have each somewhat separate trade interests and also somewhat different political difficulties. Trinidad has a population of 400,000 and it holds aloof from federation, as do the Barbadoes and Jamaica. Thus federation is not in view except as it affects the Windward and Leeward Islands.

The shorter hours of work policy in the United States has led The Hartford Courant to remark that "what this country needs is a new Aesop to rewrite the fable of the busy ant and the grasshopper who wouldn't do more than 40 hours of work a week."

VILLON'S "BALLADE DES DAMES DU TEMPS JADIS"

Tell me where, in what far land
Is Flore, the beautiful Romaine.
Or Thais of the milk-white hand,
Echo finding of the strand,
On the river and the mere,
Answers with a question vain:
Where are the snows of yesteryear?

Where is the very wise Heloise
For whom suffered Abelard,
Whose spirit murmurs in the breeze
A-moaning for his fate so hard?
And what of that most cruel Reine,
Whose eye was warmed by no tear
When Buridan died in the Seine?
Where are the snows of yesteryear?

Where is now the fair white Queen,
Blanche, sweet Alys and Manon,
And Joanne, the Maid Serene,
Burnt by the English at Rouen?
Say, where are they, Sovereign Vierge!
Canst thou give an answer clear
To the question that I urge?
Where are the snows of yesteryear?

Envoi
Prince, do not ask me, with a sigh
What land hold these women dear;
For to you must I reply—
Where are the snows of yesteryear?

—Translated from the French by F.S.M.
"A friend in need"—my neighbor said to me—
And friend indeed is what I mean to be;
In time of trouble I will come to you,
And in the hour of need you'll find me true.
I thought a bit and took him by the hand:
"My friend," said I, "you do not understand
The inner meaning of that simple rhyme:

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

For the love of money is the root of all evil.—New Testament.
But what is worth anything,
But so much money as 'twill bring?—Bible.

If you dig down to the root of all the revolutionary movements in the world today you will find in deposit there a lust for easy money. The agitation for the establishment of a central bank in Canada is based upon a belief that such an institution would provide easy money for everybody upon demand. The agitators do not want a central bank which would stabilize currency or maintain credit. What they want is a government bank which would issue easy money over the counter without demanding in return at least reasonable security for the repayment of the money lent.

We suppose if governments had taken absolute leave of their senses they could have printed bills for the million and called them millions of dollars, but the issues would not represent real money. Such issues would merely be scraps of paper. No value would be attached to them unless they represented values received or services rendered. If a central bank be established, it will hardly collect money from people who have to distribute it amongst people who have not. The adoption of such a system might create a temporary business flurry, but it would not establish a permanent era of prosperity.

There is an agitation for easy money in the United States as well as in Canada. That demand has been partially met by a depreciation in the value of the dollar and a corresponding appreciation in the value of commodities. Such a financial or economic policy (or whatever it may be) created a temporary flurry, but this artificial cure for the depression has been followed by a reaction, and in order to meet the new situation it is reported that the President has been asked to cut the value of the American dollar in two. That of course would double the volume of dollars in circulation, and possibly double the prices of all products on the market; but there is already no scarcity of money in the United States. In fact, there is so much money in circulation that it cannot be used to advantage. And the people are losing confidence in their dollars and sending them to other countries, where they cannot be used to advantage either, and so are being placed in what may be called cold storage.

This condition has been described by qualified financial authorities as producing that situation in which a debased currency drives sound money out of circulation. Debasing a currency may have the effect of relieving debtors of half or a larger proportion of their liabilities, but it cannot create conditions of permanent prosperity.

The agitation for the establishment of a government bank for the cure of all the financial ills of the people reminds us of the fact that a few years ago the Progressive Government of Manitoba set up a bank which was expected to accomplish something the ordinary banks were accused of not trying to do. One of the leaders of the C.C.F. political party (which claims it is not a political party although in politics), Mr. Woodsworth, made a reference to the Manitoba Provincial Bank in a speech delivered in Victoria. He said that Mr. Woodsworth had a deposit in the Manitoba Provincial Bank, a fact which is more creditable to his faith than his judgment. The bank which the C.C.F. leader and oracle patronized became shaky and was on the verge of complete collapse. The Dominion Government was asked to do something, not to save the credit of the bank, because that was beyond salvation, but to save the money of the depositors, which was a matter in the public interest. The Dominion Government made an arrangement with a Dominion chartered bank to take over the accounts of the Manitoba bank, and the depositors were saved from a certain loss.

As a proof of the fanatical unreasonableness of the social and economic revolutionaries, Mr. Woodsworth was not grateful for the action of the government in saving his deposits, and no doubt also the deposits of many of his Manitoba friends. He claimed that he had a grievance against the government for having been instrumental in the transfer of his money from a bank which was on the verge of bankruptcy to one of the soundest banks in the world. But of course it may be that Mr. Woodsworth had a large amount of money on deposit in the Manitoba Provincial Bank that there was no danger of its collapse if it had been left alone.

The people who want easy money no doubt want a central bank created which will conduct its business on the principles which precipitated the collapse of the Manitoba Provincial Bank. The Dominion Government during the past few years has lent its credit for the purpose of tiding the Western Provincial Governments over their financial difficulties; but there is a limit to the resources even of the Dominion Government. There is a chance that experimenting with a bank which would supply easy money to everybody might strain the Federal resources in the way of credit. There is no government behind the Dominion Government which could reasonably be expected to be as generous in its actions as the central government has been in its relations with the Western provinces.

'Slams and Salaams'

(By H. T. M.)

It was Citizens' Day—so, of course, they went to the fair. Dr. and Mrs. Moser, Mr. and Mrs. Bumble and Professor MacSwacker with a lady from Vancouver, were hunched over their eyes, and the rain dinned a melancholy patter on the roof of the Automobile Building, behind them.

"Where first?" Dr. Moser addressed his irresolute, vacant-looking friends.

"No idea," said the lady from Vancouver.

"That helps," Mr. Bumble asserted. "Ooh!" Mrs. Bumble's eyes suddenly saucer, as fierce, shiny discs detached from a nearby, wobbly merry-go-round. "Ooh, ooh!" she began jumping around, "let's have a ride on it!"

"Ooh, yes," Mrs. Moser began jumping around, too. "Let's have a ride on the dear old merry-go-round!"

"Not yet," Professor MacSwacker's ponderous Scotch accent fell crushingly on their girlish spirits. "We should first do something a little more conservative."

"Quite," agreed Dr. Moser. "What about the automobiles? They're right behind us—in fact, we're practically inside the building, now."

"Alright," voiced everybody, and accordingly they trailed the physician into a long building, wherein automobiles shone blue, green, grey, and red, against palms and old ladies that rested their plump loins on scattered wicker chairs and lounges.

"There were Buicks and Dodges and Studebakers and Fords and Chevrolets, and dear knows what, of the way of lovely, silky motor cars. "My foot," said that big, blubbery, cooed the lady from Vancouver.

"But look at that snappy Buick," countered Mrs. Bumble as she massaged her husband's sleeve in an urging sort of way. "Will you buy it for me, dear?"

"Now, I'll tell you!" Mr. Bumble retorted with withering husbandly disdain and meanness. "Look," he diverted speedily. "Look, the Mosers seem to be buying a Rolls Royce, or something!"

"Don't be ridiculous," the professor broke in severely, as his dark eyes focused on the bent figures of Dr. and Mrs. Moser, whose heads seemed to have been actually stepped off by the steel hood under which the doctor was doubtless scrutinizing spark plugs and distributors, through his microscope.

"Don't be ridiculous," the professor's voice droned on, "it's not a Rolls—it's a Cadillac!"

"Tripe," guffawed Bumble, "it's a Buick from Vancouver, it's a Buick from Vancouver in a wise, airy tone. "It's a Hispano-Suiza. I drove in one last time I was on the Riviera."

"Pardon me," the salesman who had been buzzing at the Mosers suddenly interrupted with icy truculence. "Pardon me, ladies, and gentlemen—but this car happens to be a Ford!"

"Oh!" said the lady from Vancouver. "Don't believe it!" vowed Bumble. "Humph!" grunted the professor, and "Ha, ha, ha," chorused Mrs. Bumble. "I knew you were all crazy—and now, I want that merry-go-round!"

"We can't do that yet!" the professor again objected. "We're simply not in the mood for elevating and edifying things, first. The cattle—the horses—the Industrial Building—the poultry and pigs, and things of that nature!"

"Persecute!" sniffed the lady from Vancouver.

"No, no, no!" Mrs. Bumble began prancing again. "No, no, I want to go on the merry-go-round. I want to go on the merry-go-round. I want to go on the merry-go-round!"

"Me, too," Mrs. Moser joined her, with shrill vehemence.

"Keep calm," the physician's voice droned on, "we're going to the Main Building—understand?"

The doctor looked decidedly dangerous with this announcement, and so, as he began squealing through the main towards the Main Building, his companions began mumbling things behind his back, but nevertheless following.

Mrs. Bumble was first up the steps, and with customary "puissance," began rattling and worrying the glass doors, which were closed.

"Let us in!" she made threatening finger signs at a man (a sort of "guardian of the gate") who stood smug and leering on the inside.

"Too late," he shouted with evident glee, "the buildings are all closed!"

"What?" snapped Mrs. Bumble. "That's absurd!"

"Order!" grunted the "guardian of the gate." "Puerile," the doctor's nose twitched with obvious irritability. "Haywire," sniffed the lady from Vancouver, and typically Victorian!

"Enough of that!" warned the professor. "But I fear we've been very, very foolish. We should have come earlier!"

"Naturally," stilled Mrs. Bumble. "And now for the merry-go-round. Hokey, hokey!"

"Goodies, goodies, goodies," Mrs. Moser's flute-like voice blended with Mrs. Bumble's huskiness, "Goodies—let's go!"

material has been the result, and of course a greater menace to world peace.

The League of Nations Commission declared: "That armament firms have sought to influence public opinion through the control of newspapers in their own and foreign countries."

Individual editors, like individual citizens, who draw attention to such things usually have an unconscionable thing of it, and yet surely these things are not right!

Of course it is not only the so-called "capitalist press" that needs overhauling, but any press organ under the control of a biased radical, a Hitler or a Stalin.

Criticism of the Church frequently appear in your columns, no doubt prompted by a motive of serving the interests of the public, and so it is from the same motive that individual members of the Church may be led to criticize the press as the need arises.

In conclusion, I would like to correct what I believe to be an error which appeared in your paper a few weeks ago. You stated: "Dean Inge says that to mix religion and business is to spoil two good things."

What the Dean did say (Christian Ethics and Modern Problems, page 210), was: "A certain American has said that to mix religion and business is to spoil two good things."

It is because we have allowed these two to become divorced that we are now in so much trouble.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 13, 1883.)

Nanaimo News—The old bridge at Windward Crescent fell last Thursday. A young porter under the bridge at the time lost his breath through fright. Haze Gervais was badly hurt by a stick which fell on him from the top of the postoffice building. The Carpenter's leaving exam at Four Bay has passed into the hands of W. J. Sutton, proprietor of Dawson sawmill. The sale of the Carpenter estate exceeded expectations.

Another Find—Yesterday the indefatigable searchers for Cranella's hidden wealth were rewarded by discovery of monies amounting to $1,048 in two sums, one consisting of $100 in Bank of British North America notes, and the other $948 in gold. Both amounts were deposited upon in the most unlooked for places. The search, especially a very filthy place, was searched without success. To another obscure hole, which had been used for depositing the sum of fifty cents was found. The quest will not be relinquished until all the goods have been removed and every conceivable place ransacked.

Seawall Company—The Dominion Seawall Company, which started a few months back in New Westminster, has established a yard and agency at Victoria on the site of the Moodyville Seawall Company, between Ross's Wharf and Marwood & Son's business premises. J. M. Cooper, agent for the company here, says the difficulty at present is not in the disposal of the lumber, but in securing a sufficient quantity to fill many orders.

Patrons Are Drawn To Art Exhibition In Large Numbers

Wide Diversity of Subject Matter and Mediums of Expression Give Interest to Hundreds Who Throng Old Manufacturers' Building

OF the thousands who are swarming to the Provincial Exhibition at the Willows this week, a great majority are making a special point of the art display in the old Manufacturers' Building. Even if the visitor might have temporarily forgotten its whereabouts, the enormous mural paintings by D. R. Brandt visible from beneath the gallery would call attention to the collection. On an unusually large scale, in a broad, modernistic poster style, these panels would prove suitable for hospital, transportation company's office, or other large building. One of the subjects would make a good anti-war poster, another commends itself for Sunday school or reformatory.

Among the exhibitors not previously referred to are T. Gore and T. Bamford, both of whom are among the senior members of the Island Arts and Crafts Society. Each has a distinctive style, conservative, expressive, and sound in technique and draughtsmanship, the former's possessing more poetry and imagination, and the latter's an architectural straightforwardness of intention. Mr. Gore is represented by six charmingly characteristic views of Prospect Lake, caught in all moods, and Mr. Bamford, also a lover of British Columbia scenery, goes a little farther afield for his subjects, painting with fidelity and realism several Coast views.

A VARIED STYLE

Ina Uthoff's work has rather varied style. One of her most spontaneous is a little water color on canvas paper that, with a few brilliant strokes of color, very simply and effectively expresses a Summer-resort beach. She has another very effective pencil and wash picture of Kootenay Creek.

An attractive little water color, depicting an out-of-the-way spot among the Islands, is by Madeleine Porter. R. Ross shows a broadening of style in a Springtime picture that includes typical Coast hills and inlets with a Hawthorne bush in full bloom in the foreground. Mrs. Willis has several crowded garden scenes gleaming with bloom; Mrs. W. Loveland's tall tulips are appealingly decorative; A. Davidson's scenic oils show sensitive appreciation of form and perspective; Miss Snyder's contributions include the portrait of a rajah, a Spanish garden basking with sunshine and bloom, a Brentwood Indian reserve picture that shows good knowledge of figure painting and treatment of distances in nature; Reggie Dove's portrait of a girl has real vitality and life; D. Donogh's "Landscape" has both fidelity and imagination; Isabel Hobbs' "Cornfield" and Jean Miller's "Loch Lomond" are well worth noting; and Emily Baile, B. J. Palmer, and J. Kent Pawks' work all merit attention.

COMPETITIVE SECTION

In the competitive art section it is impossible to draw comparisons, the standards called for in the wide diversity of classes being so different. In their own class Allan Linton's stiples are quite remarkable. The artist is still in his middle teens, but uses his medium with great nicety and delicacy, showing patience and technical skill, one of the pictures being a portrait, and other being a colored stipple of the Temple of Karnak that would be highly suitable for book illustration. In a smooth photostatic style his picture of the Taj Mahal is outstanding.

MODEL AIRPLANE

A wonderful little unit is the boys' model airplane exhibit, which shows keen observation and busy fingers on the part of the young craftsmen. In a class by itself in this group is Donald Mulcahy's exhibit of a model Bellanca Airbus, with interior seats, propellers, glass doors, pilot's stick, struts and all other details complete, and two smaller Pöcker models.

INSECT COLLECTION

The best amateur collection of insects was compiled by David Wadsell, who also shows a case of neatly-mounted moths. — Jackie Kyle, one of the young Soar-patients has won a prize with two plasticine models of flowers. A conspicuous example of fine inlay work is Arthur Cann's table with flower clusters, landscapes, seascapes and other details worked out in different woods. In the painted China section, Hazel Hodson's set of six pieces draws immediate attention from those skilled to observe the fine points in this art. A cream and sugar set, with matching bowl, a peacock-decorated urn, and a tall narrow throat blue bottle embossed with gold are very beautiful examples of this kind of work. Wood carving has few competitors. F. J. King's chest being an excellent example of design and good chiselling.

TRUSTEES WILL CONVEY SOON

J. M. Campbell Is City Delegate to Conference at Courtenay

Trustee J. M. Campbell was appointed as delegate to the British Columbia Trustees' Association convention, to be held in Courtenay from September 18 to 20, inclusive, at last night's meeting of the City School Board.

Trustee George J. Deane, chairman of the board, and Municipal School Inspector George H. Deane indicated that they might also attend the convention.

Twenty-three resolutions are listed on the agenda. Important among these is one that the Minister of Education be asked to introduce the system of payment by recommendation into high school from all public schools in the province.

WANT REVISIONS

Another asks that the curriculum at high school be revised so that rural students may acquire a knowledge of subjects leading up to agriculture.

Further revision of the school curricula, starting from Grade VII, so that a new course in economics more adaptable to the times might be available, is the subject of another motion.

Removal of the educational system from the sphere of civic budgets and placing it as a direct moral and monetary obligation on the Province is asked by Nanaimo.

A moratorium of three years on raising fund charges is sought by another resolution.

LADYSMITH FAIR WELL ATTENDED

LADYSMITH, Sept. 14.—Lady-smith's annual fall fair and exhibition was officially opened by Lt.-Col. C. W. Villiers.

E. D. Comley, president of the Agricultural Society, introduced the speakers, and Mayor Mason expressed his gratification at the support accorded the fair.

Colonel Villiers remarked he believed in Ladysmith, and the surprising display around him on these annual occasions, made him feel that faith was justified. He congratulated the Agricultural Society and the citizens of the city upon another splendid success.

W. W. Walkem spoke on behalf of the board of trade.

Later in the afternoon, the attendance at the fair became increasingly heavy, and officials of the society were of the opinion, that the fair would at least equal that of any other year. There are over 1,300 entries in all divisions, and this number is practically the same as that of last year.

SAMUEL P. CURNOW TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Funeral services for Samuel P. Curnow, former Victorian, who was killed in a mine accident near Butte, Montana, recently, will be held tomorrow afternoon at McCall Brothers' Funeral Parlors at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mr. Curnow was born in New York forty-one years ago and lived in Victoria for twenty-one years. He left this city for Butte some nine years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Curnow, Butte, who accompanied the remains to Victoria; his mother, Mrs. T. C. Curnow; three sisters, Mrs. R. H. Beare, Mrs. T. C. Payne and Mrs. H. Bayliss, all of Victoria; two brothers, Thomas and James, of Britannia Beach.

QUALICUM BANTAMS WIN AT VANCOUVER

QUALICUM BEACH, Sept. 14.—At the recent Canada Pacific Exhibition at Vancouver, which has just closed, John Golding, who is now becoming famous as a breeder of Golden Bantam Bantams, won the following awards in a hot competition: First cock, first and second hen and first pen. These birds are now at the provincial show in Victoria.

Young Golding unfortunately met with a piece of real hard luck. He had made his selection for the big show, and sent in his entries, and the very same day, his best two birds were killed by a hawk. One of these birds was declared by the judge last year to be the best bantam ever shown in Vancouver. The other bird was a young one, but looked very promising.

COMPANY LIST IS ANNOUNCED

WAGE FIGHT FOR VICTORIA BLOCK

Proms Building in This City Is Subject of Litigation Between Californians

A case that has been before the courts of the province in varying form for some time is again up for trial, before Mr. Justice Fisher, in the Supreme Court. This action involves the rights to the property in this city known as the Proms Block, which is occupied by the Angus Campbell Company, on Government Street.

The ownership of the property, which is under lease to the local firm, is in dispute between claimants, all of whom reside in California. Actions affecting the property and its rival claimants in the ownership have been tried in the Supreme Court of this province, have been before the Court of Appeal of British Columbia, and have been also taken to the Supreme Court of Canada.

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE

The present action has as plaintiffs Josephine Andler et al., representing the executors of the estate of Oscar Promis and Sophie Promis. The defendants are G. E. Duke, Margaret Duke and Standard Realty Company. The taking of evidence was commenced yesterday, with Joseph Bridgman, representing the estate locally, as witness. A large amount of documentary evidence is being tendered, Alfred Bull, K.C., of Vancouver, appears for the plaintiffs, with A. D. Crease, of this city, for the defence.

The present action has for its object the setting aside of a transfer of the property by the defendant, G. E. Duke, to Margaret Duke, his wife, on the ground that it was carried out without consideration and for the purpose of defrauding the plaintiffs. A receiver is applied for and the payment of damages.

Plan to Improve School Grounds At Craigflower

Included in suggestions to be placed before the board of directors of the Victoria Rotary Club is one that will be of considerable interest to the people of Victoria. It is the plan to undertake the maintenance of the old Craigflower School grounds. It is understood that a sketch plan of proposed improvements has already been prepared, but the whole proposal will have to receive the sanction of the Rotary board before further action is taken.

The project was announced by Charles H. French, president of the club, at the regular luncheon meeting yesterday. Mr. French intimated the board would welcome any further suggestions to be included in the Fall and Winter programme of activities.

THE HALF-CUP OF MILK DID IT!
"I want Cadbury's"
was the instant response to fresh milk flavour

People saw the picture of milk pouring from a cup in Cadbury advertisements. "What?" they said, "half a cup of fresh full cream milk in a 5c bar? Let's look into this!" And the first taste told them how different, how much smoother, more delicious milk chocolate can be.

Eat a bar of Cadbury's Dairy Milk Chocolate today.

DEFENCE CASE IS PRESENTED

Fong Sing and Wing Hope Deny Taking Part in Hold-Up—Offer Alibis

Disposing of the case for the Crown yesterday morning, the evidence for the defence in the charges laid against Fong Sing and Wing Hope of robbery of two other Chinese at Hatley Park was commenced. Both the accused were heard in their own defence and both denied any connection with the hold-up of Harry Wong and Shun Jack.

Wing Hope, under examination by Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for the accused, denied that he was in the car of Dan Mar on the night of August 6, the date of the hold-up. He saw Dan Mar on the street and the latter had wanted to borrow money from him. He had refused him this.

He testified that he was very ill that night and had remained in the house all evening and did not get up until Sunday afternoon.

His explanation of defence was offered by the other side of his having talked with the Mar boys who said that this took place on the Tuesday or Wednesday evening before the hold-up.

PREVIOUS TROUBLE

Under cross-examination by C. L. Harrison for the Crown, witness admitted he was something of a wrestler and had appeared in public in that capacity. He recalled also that Inspector Owens, of the Provincial Police, had subjected him to examination in connection with the tying up of another Chinaman at Hatley Park the year before. Dan Mar was concerned in this also and the tied-up man was left after being thrown on the ground.

The explanation of Wing Hope was that this was a joke they played on the man.

He would not admit that he had said to Fong Sing in the lock-up charge that he (witness) would knock the block or head of Fong Sing if he said certain things. Witness stated a lot of things had been said in fun at the time.

He admitted, however, that he had said to the Mar boys, "If you tell any more lies, I will get the whole bunch of you." He explained that what he meant was that he would have them up for perjury.

The evidence of the other accused, Fong Sing, was in the main to the effect that he had been called by Dan Mar on the evening of the hold-up to get into the car with him and had been taken for a drive with the other Mar boys and had later gone to Hatley Park with them. He had not wanted to go, but Dan Mar persuaded him to do so as he was going out for something and time after eleven o'clock when he was dropped off at his quarters in the city. Dan Mar had just been a few minutes in his room at Hatley Park on the visit there.

PROVED BRIGHT WITNESS

The evidence of May Mar, a sister of Dan Mar, proved an interesting feature of the afternoon owing to the readiness with which she maintained her rights to walk and talk with young men of her acquaintance, supplementing her acquaintance with the questions of counsel along this line with her own query as to "What is wrong with that?"

When Mr. Higgins proceeded to revive her memory as to some statement given under oath by her previously, the little Miss upset the decorum of the court by breaking in upon the questioner when he had only uttered the words, "Did you not say, 'I don't swear'?"

At the morning sitting of the court, Judge Lammman disposed of the point raised with respect to the request for the recalling of Wong Mar, a crown witness, whom Mr. Harrison wished to subject to cross-examination on the ground that his evidence given in cross-examination was not in keeping with the information the witness had conveyed to the crown previously.

RULING IS MADE

Judge Lammman said that after carefully reading the references relating to the point he had decided that he would not permit the recall of the witness. He supported the contention of Mr. Higgins on the ground that the decisions of the Court of Appeal of the province did not appear to support the course asked for.

His Honor said that the practice suggested by Mr. Harrison appeared to be the practice of the English courts, but was not followed in the Canadian courts, it appeared.

With a number of witnesses still to be called for the defence, the court adjourned until Monday morning.

W. L. Armstrong officiating, of Dorothy Beatrice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Colledge, Orlin Avenue, Vancouver, and Mr. John Lauchlan Parris, youngest son of Mr. J. W. deB. Parris, K.C. and Mrs. Parris. The bridegroom spent his early boyhood in Victoria, and new of his marriage is of interest to old friends here.

The church was beautifully decorated with Fall flowers in tall standards. Escorted by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of simple Georgian style, fashioned from ivory corset-starch velvet. Quite unadorned, the gown featured a clever neckline scarf treatment and tight fitting long sleeves from the shoulder. The veil, gracefully swathed across the hips, extended to the floor in circular flared folds and formed a brief train. Exquisite point de rose formed the long veil which was held to the hair with orange blossoms, and white Killarney roses, lilies of the valley and white heather formed the lovely shower bouquet.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS

Mrs. C. Y. Robson, of Great Central, V.I., was the matron of honor; Miss Elaine Colledge, the bride's sister, and Miss Shirley Fraser, were the bridesmaids. The three attendants were attired in cream chiffon velvet, the gowns being Mererose straight, the knees, where they flared slightly to the ankles. The neckline showed a rounded yoke cut away to show the soft cowl effect of the white tiny buttons of velvet centred the back to the depth of the yoke. Pin tucks served to shape the waist and wide swathes of velvet tied at the back from the sides and fell almost to the hemline. The sleeves were glove-tight and reached to the wrists and chic student berets of gold shaded velvet with bows on the left side were worn. The Autumn tones of bronze, buttercup, goldfinch and bananier chrysanthemums used in the arm bouquets reflected the unusual color note of the little hats.

LARGE RECEPTION

At the formal reception following: Mrs. W. W. Colledge and Mrs. J. W. deB. Parris received in the spacious rooms which were arranged with a profusion of seasonal blooms. Mrs. Colledge wore black ring velvet with a three-quarter length coat lined with white satin and trimmed with ermine, and a small evening hat of the same material with ostrich feather and together with a corsage of Rapture roses and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. Parris was in a striking gown of double-faced gold and silver lame, the silver predominant. Cut very low at the back, the dress was fashioned to cross over at the back where one side extended in a narrow fold to make a brief train, showing the two tones. A small shoulder cape revealed the gold while the hat of the same material was cleverly and simply trimmed. She wore a spray of gardenias.

Mrs. W. E. Ingledew, a sister of the bride-elect, wore an evening dress of black velvet with a waist-length jacket of velvet and a hat to match.

Later the bride couple left for Colbridge, Victoria, where Mrs. Parris will complete his law course at Harvard University, and the bride will also continue her studies, enrolling at Radcliffe's well-known women's college, for courses in English. The couple are graduates of the University of British Columbia.

The bride traveled in a navy crepe gown, with blue coat trimmed with squirrel and hat to match.

Mrs. Katherine Greive returned to the city yesterday morning after three weeks' visit to relatives and friends in San Francisco and Berkeley.

DUNCAN P.T.A.

DUNCAN, Sept. 14.—The annual meeting of the Duncan Parent-Teacher Association was held last night at the K. of P. Hall. Mrs. J. Piper, vice-president, occupied the chair, and read a report of the association's activities during the past year. The secretary and treasurer also read their reports which were adopted. Election of officers was then held. Mrs. A. Thorpe was elected president; Mrs. A. Leeming, vice-president; R. Hanes, secretary; Mrs. J. Piper, treasurer; Messrs. J. Dick and R. Tipton, auditors; Mrs. George Cook, convenor of standing committee; Miss W. Leeming, convenor of membership committee; additional executive members, Mrs. J. Dunkeld and R. Lendrum. The newly-elected president, Mr. Thorpe, took the chair and extended a hearty welcome to the newly-appointed members of the local teaching staff.

An Elizabethan judge, Sir Nicholas Bacon, was appealed to by a woman, who was in jeopardy on the ground of kinship. "Your name is Bacon, my lord, and mine is Hog," said Sir Nicholas. "Hog is not Bacon until it has been well changed."

Diego, is a visitor in Victoria and is staying at "The Grove," on Bank Street. Miss Stewart has as her guest, Mrs. J. W. Kenneth Racey, of Vancouver.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

THE horse races at the Willows this week are attracting their usual interest for lovers of the turf, and many well-known enthusiasts are to be seen there each day. The above snapshots taken during the week show, upper left, Mrs. James Woods, Mr. G. G. MacKenzie, Mrs. MacKenzie and Mrs. David Spencer; upper right, Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, who is a keen horsewoman; lower left, Mrs. Jack Rithet and, lower right, Mrs. F. Homer Dixon and her youngest daughter, Miss Audrey Homer Dixon.

Clubs-Societies

St. Andrew's Guild

With their usual energy and enthusiasm, a large number of members of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met in the church parlors this week. Mrs. John Cochran, the president, was in the chair. At the conclusion of routine business, plans were formulated for the annual rummage sale to be held in October. Members signified a willingness to contribute clothing and oddments, which in past years, have found a ready market among self-respecting members of the community whose purses are limited. Tentative plans were also made for a "talent tea" to be held in November, at which time members of the guild and members of the church contribute money, which has been made during the year through the use of their various talents. This year, little bags, made by guild members, will be distributed and will add a festive touch to the party when they come to the talent tea.

Cowichan W.A.

DUNCAN, Sept. 14.—The W.A. to the Cowichan Hospital Association held an executive meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Savage. There were ten members present. Arrangements were completed for the annual jam and vegetable shower, which will be held at the Nurses' Home, Monday, September 25. Mrs. John Gibb and Mrs. K. F. Highmore, of Crofton, has given a beautifully embroidered tea cloth to be sold at the shower for the auxiliary funds. Permission has been obtained to hold a tag day for the hospital on September 23, the final day of the Fall fair, and Miss M. E. Wilson consented to take charge of the arrangements. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. P. Prevost, president of the W.A., Mrs. G. H. Savage and Miss Lucy Kingston. After the meeting Mrs. Savage served tea.

Salt Spring L.A.

The first meeting after the Summer vacation of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church took place recently at the home of the president, Miss H. Dean, at Ganges, who was in the chair, and fifteen members present. There was the usual routine business, after which, it was arranged by members to hold a sale of home cooking, fruits, vegetables and miscellaneous articles at the home of Mrs. Mount, Ganges House, on Thursday, September 28. The tea hostess for the afternoon was Miss Dean.

Wilkinson Road W.M.S.

An interesting meeting of the Wilkinson Road W.M.S. was held in the church, with Mrs. W. Allison presiding. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Phillips, and all secretaries gave reports. The main item was a talk by Dr. Fraser, of Trinidad, who told of his work there, stressing the importance of the work the W.M.S. had done. Mrs. Simpson sang very beautifully, "Tell Me the Old, Old Story." The next meeting will be held in the Parsonage, Glyn Road.

Women's Conservative

A business meeting of the Victoria Women's Conservative Association was held last evening at headquarters, Campbell Building, Mrs. S. R. Roberts in the chair. Plans were made for a card party to be held on Thursday, September 28, in the rooms, Mrs. Penner Briggs as convener. Mrs. Crawford, of the Peace River District, was present at the meeting and gave a short address.

Waterfront Workers To Have Busy Time For Balance of Week

Freighters and Passenger Ships Totalling Eleven Will Load and Discharge Cargo at Local Docks in Next Few Days

Waterfront workers will imagine the depression has passed during the next few days. Freighters to the number of eight are due to dock between Thursday and Sunday nights, loading and discharging cargo, and three passenger vessels are due, one inbound from California, one from the Orient, and the other sailing for Far East ports. The Ruth Alexander arrived from San Francisco at 2 o'clock this morning. The President Jackson will sail Saturday for Yokohama, and the Tantalus is due Sunday.

The line-up of freight carriers is as follows: The Lyca arrived from the United Kingdom last evening at 8:30 o'clock to load shingles for Atlantic Coast delivery, and the Brynne came in from the West Indies and Out of Mexico ports at 10 o'clock with general cargo for discharge. Both ships docked at Rithet Piers. At the same docks, the Pacific Commerce, of the Canadian Transport, is due today from St. Lawrence River ports with general cargo for the port.

DUE HERE TODAY
To load lumber for the United Kingdom, the Nyhorn is due at Ogden Point Piers today. Coming from Chemainus, the freighter Coolistan is also due today for lumber cargo. She will load at Ogden Point Piers also for the United Kingdom. On Saturday night or Sunday morning, the Benjamin Franklin will come to take on lumber for United Kingdom delivery, and on Sunday night, the French Line passenger and freight ship, Winnipeg, will arrive at Ogden Point.

Prepares for Second Antarctic Trip

Here is the Pacific Fir, which will be used as the Supply Ship for the Second Antarctic Expedition of Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd (inset). Well-Known Explorer. The Ship Will Be Scrapped and Painted in Drydock at Boston, in Preparation for the Voyage Into the South Polar Regions.

Over Captain Lindsay has been taking examinations at Prince Rupert as well as at Vancouver, and will officiate from now on at Victoria as occasion arises.

Later Captain Davis came to Victoria many years ago in sailing vessels. He was here aboard the Mitredale and the Illala, and served in the Dale Line for fifteen years as master of sailing craft. In 1911 he brought the Ss. Prince Rupert to the Coast from the Old Country, and in 1913 went back for the Ss. Prince John. Both ships came here via the Strait of Magellan. He served out of Victoria as chief officer of the Rupert and as master of the same vessel in the Grand Trunk service.

Later Captain Davis was examiner at Prince Rupert, being stationed there for two years, coming to Victoria some fifteen years ago. He has examined all the officers of the merchant marine graduating with masters and mates' tickets in Victoria during that time. The list is an extensive one.

Loggers Are Busy Taking Out Logs Along B.C. Coast

Returning from a holiday spent among the scenes he reproduces so well in pastel, D. B. Robinson stated yesterday that the Union Steamship Company's Ss. Venture, on which he went as far North as Kingcome Inlet, visiting many logging camps and canneries en route, was loaded with freights for the different industries when she left Vancouver.

Mr. Robinson stated that everybody he met along the coast was feeling optimistic for the future, and appeared glad to have an opportunity to take their coats off again for a while anyway. The intention of the loggers he talked to was to continue getting out logs through the winter.

While away, Mr. Robinson made a number of sketches, principally along Knight Inlet, and these will be reproduced on canvas in the coming months.

Curiosity prompted a kid to lift from a beehive the lid; "What was in it," said he, and his face testifies that he did.

REGULARITY REMARKABLE

Nine Australian Air Lines Operate With Only One Interruption

Facts circulated in the past few days by the International Commission for Air Navigation about the Australian air lines, make a remarkable reading. Nine services are shown, operated by five companies, whose activities extended from the Northern Territories to Tasmania, and from Perth and Derby in the West to Sydney and Brisbane in the East. The routes totaled about 7,000 miles in length. Air line machines flew in the aggregate 857,000 miles. They carried, by stages, 12,000 passengers. Goods and excess baggage transported totaled 206 tons, and mails (including printed matter and parcels) 14 tons.

But the notable figures are printed in a column headed "Regularity Percentage of Flights Carried Out to Scheduled Flights." Eight of the nine services have returned figures on which this percentage can be calculated. With one exception, the figure 100 appears in the column. The exception is 99.8.

Such regularity is the reward of good organization, and of the employment of skillful personnel and dependable airplanes. The British aircraft and aero engine constructor may find just reason for pride in the fact that the fleets of the companies concerned, as recorded in the I.C.A.N. statistics, consist solely in British material. Machines range in size from the Vickers Vixen monoplane and the De Havilland Hercules biplanes, flown during the year by West Australian Airways, to the Puss Moth and the Servotwin light craft, which fly regularly between Launceston in Tasmania, and Flinders Island.

LOOKING FOR SUNKEN GOLD

Salvagers Believe Russian Battleship Had Large Amount of Bullion

Another treasure hunt has been started in the vicinity of Port Arthur, which was taken by the Japanese forces during the Russo-Japanese war. A large salvage pontoon is now at work searching for a hoard of gold bullion said to be lying at the bottom of the sea about two miles from the Golden Hill Port, one of the forts protecting Port Arthur, according to advice received locally from the Orient.

It is believed that a large quantity of gold bullion was jacked in the strong room of the Russian battleship Petropavlovsk, which was one of the warships sunk by the Japanese during the fighting.

The gold hoard has been at the bottom of the sea for thirty years but officials of the salvage company engaged in the search believe that it can be recovered and they expect that their divers will find it intact.

ARE PROFICIENT
Japanese salvagers for gold have become extremely proficient of late years. Equipped with the latest apparatus of science for deep-sea diving, they have been able to descend into dangerous depths of water in search of gold and silver and other valuables with considerable degree of success.

The most recent case of salvaging was done by the Imperial Salvage Company, of Tokyo, which went to work to salvage the Chinese merchant vessel Toonah, which was sunk in collision off the Shanghai promontory several months ago. The vessel sank with thirty-nine cases of silver sycee belonging to the Bank of Communications. Working in co-operation with an insurance firm, which had underwritten the silver, the Japanese salvagers were able to bring the entire consignment to the surface.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING
VANCOUVER, Sept. 14 (CP).—Ma Olympia is in port to American Mail Line to load 360,000 feet of lumber, 26,000 feet of birch logs and 250 tons of flour for Japan and China.

Carrying 200 tons of general, and booked to load 1,000 tons of wheat, in addition to general, the Swedish motorship Margaret Johnson is due Sunday from Scandinavia and United Kingdom ports. Six passengers will join the ship here.

To discuss rates, members of the Pacific Coast-Australian conference are meeting in Hotel Vancouver today. Representatives from cities as far South as San Francisco are attending.

British Ss. Benwlich is expected to reach Canada Rice Mills plant at Woodward's landing over the week-end to discharge Chinese rice. Anglo-Canadian Shipping Company will berth the vessel for United Kingdom ports.

Carrying a cargo of fuel and crude oil for the Coal Harbor tanks and the Loco Refinery, Union Oil tanker La Placencia is posted to arrive Friday.

Grace Line Ss. Coysa is due at New Westminster Friday, and here during the week-end to load for South America. The vessel will also load at Powell River. It will carry 500 tons of box shooks, 500 tons of paper, 1,250 tons of sacked wheat, 350,000 feet of lumber and 100 tons of general cargo.

Ship Models and Pictures Create Great Interest

The models and pictures of ships, which the Thermopylae Club has on exhibit at the Fall Fair at the Willows, continue to attract a lot of attention from all classes of patrons, the space in front of the alcove in which the models are shown being continually crowded with people interested in the various models.

In the list of those loaning models and pictures published in Wednesday morning's Colonist, the name of O. T. Goldsmith was omitted. He has three pictures in the collection, one of them being that of the coal-laden ship Spartan.

The Spartan is shown under storm canvas off the coast of Vancouver Island. This was during the gale that sent the Ss. Matewan to the bottom and in which H.M.S. Condor foundered. Many seamen are of the opinion that the latter ship saw signals of distress from the Matewan and went to her assistance, the latter being that the two ships collided with fatal results to both.

CITY BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings in Victoria for the week ending yesterday totaled $1,384,570, compared with $1,349,981 for the corresponding week of last year.

SEAT ON CURB SOLD
MONTREAL, Sept. 14 (CP).—A seat on the Montreal curb market was sold today for $15,000 to an unnamed purchaser. The last sale was in the vicinity of $9,000.

Chicago Rallies in Last Inning to Win From New York, 4-3

Gabby Hartnett's Single With Bases Loaded Gives Cubs Close Victory and Slices Giants' Lead — Senators Win—Rain Interferes

NATIONAL LEAGUE
CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP).—Chicago Cubs won a scanty array of shivering fans today by putting on a stirring ninth-inning rally to defeat the league-leading New York Giants, 4-3, in what started out to be the first game of a double-header, but wound up as a single contest.

The one victory gave Chicago sole possession of second place and reduces New York's lead in the National League race to five and one-half games. Pittsburgh Pirates, kept idle by rain, dropped to third, a half-game behind the Cubs.

After playing through an hour of misty rain and cold that stiffened fingers and contributed to errors, it was decided one game was enough, and the second game was put off to make part of a double-header Saturday. The Cubs already have a double bill scheduled for tomorrow.

Going into the ninth trailing 2-3 because Second Baseman Billy Herman fumbled in the seventh, to give the Giants two runs and the lead, the Cubs opened up against Fred Fitzsimmons and filled the bases with none out. Gabby Hartnett then drove home the tying and winning runs, with a single to center.

Pat Malone, who succeeded Charlie Root after the latter had an hour's way to a pinch hitter in the eighth, drew credit for his ninth victory of the season. It was Fitzsimmons' eleventh defeat.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP).—A sparkling three-run rally in the ninth inning today gave the league-leading Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over Detroit Tigers and Earl Whitehill, southpaw artist, his twenty-first pitching triumph.

Today's success boosted the Senators' lead to nine full games, over the second-place New York Yankees, who were forced into idleness by rain. R. H. E. Detroit..... 3 15 0

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
BUFFALO, Sept. 14 (AP).—Behind the seven-hit pitching of Charley Perkins, tail left-hander, Buffalo Bisons swept to their third successive victory over Baltimore Orioles, 3-0, here tonight and advanced to the championship play-off finals where they will face either Newark Bears or Rochester Redwings.

Perkins, recently recalled for the 1934 season by the Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched out of several tight holes to enable the Bisons to end the series between the second place clubs of the Northern and Southern sections in the minimum number of games.

Newark and Rochester, first place teams in the Southern and Northern divisions respectively, now are denuded at one victory apiece in their best-three-out-of-five series. The third game of their elimination battle, scheduled for tonight at Rochester, was postponed until tomorrow night on account of wet grounds and cold weather.

Entry List for Women's Tourney To Close Tonight

ENTRIES for the women's city golf championship, which will get under way at the Uplands Club on Monday morning, with the eighteen-hole medal round carded, will close this evening with Secretary John Caven, at 5 o'clock. A large entry list is expected and some keen competition should take place before the successor of Miss Marjorie Todd, Oak Bay Club, who is at present attending school in Switzerland, is named. Play will continue all week and the champion will be named Friday with the eighteen-hole final carded.

FRENCH HONEY WINS FEATURE

Speckles' Horse Win Main Event at Longacres Track—Simmons Hurler From Mount

LONGACRES TRACK, RENTON, Wash., Sept. 14 (AP).—French Honey, owned by John D. Speckles III, went on to win the six-furlong main event today after John W. Marchbanks' Chazman and Apprentice Herbert Simmons were hurled into the mud at the half-way mark.

Neither was hurt when Chazman lost his footing and Simmons rolled under the fence out of the way of flying hoofs.

French Honey's time was 1:14.3-5. The Pasadena Stable's Ozymandias was second, and Bosta's Pride, owned by Irwin Co., was third. Overlooked in the betting, French Honey paid $34.70, $14.90 and $5.90.

TITLEHOLDER SCORES CLOSE GOLF VICTORY

Margery Kirkham Taken to Final Hole in Canadian Open Tournament

PINE RIDGE GOLF COURSE, WINNIPEG, Sept. 14 (AP).—Near defeat of the defending champion, long-driving Margery Kirkham, Montreal, tonight stood out as the surprise match of championship play in the Canadian Women's Open golf tournament here today, as she and three other titleholders advanced to the semi-final tomorrow.

Champion of Manitoba last year, Mrs. John Rogers' Whistler, forced Miss Kirkham to play the full eighteen holes in quarter-final match competition before she bowed to defeat, 1 down.

Ada Mackenzie, Toronto holder of the closed title to be defended at St. Charles Country Club here next week, advanced by a straightforward victory over Lols McLaren, Winnipeg, 7 and 6.

Mrs. R. K. Bealston, Winnipeg City and Manitoba champion, played the most brilliant golf of her career to tour the last seven holes in even 4's and eliminate a Royal Canadian Club title-seeker, Maryon Murphy, 4.

JUNIOR PLAYS WELL
Last, but not least, of the crown-wearers, Isabel Pepall, Ontario junior titleholder from Toronto, established herself as a dangerous opponent to the defender in the semi-finals tomorrow when she took the measure of Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, Winnipeg, who has three times held the Manitoba championship, 3 and 4.

A spectacular shot on the tenth gave Miss Kirkham confidence, and proved the turning point in the close match, after which she took the turn. Stylishly, the Montreal girl carefully chipped over Mrs. Rogers' ball and into the cup to win.

The experience that showed to such good advantage when she won the qualifying medal last Monday, today enabled Miss Mackenzie to take an easy victory from Mrs. McLaren, although the Manitoba girl had her in a bad position twice in the game. The Toronto star made a large gallery gasp when she negotiated a few feet from the pin to trap shots of the tournament on the third fairway. Her club lifted the ball cleanly off the sand and dropped it a few feet from the pin to give her a half after Miss McLaren putted nervously. Making the turn 2 up, Miss Pepall was never behind in her match today against Mrs. Pellenz.

FAVORITES AGAIN SHOW WAY AT WILLOWS TRACK

Mudders Have Big Day; No Startling Prices Are Posted

Budover Returns Best Odds of Day in Fourth—Daily Double Worth $23.40 and One-Two $16.45—Women Are to Be Guests of Association This Afternoon

Public choices had another in-ning at the Willows track yesterday and box car figures were not hoisted in any of the races, although winning prices were good. A muddy track greeted a fair Thursday crowd and betting was good. The longest win price of the day was paid by Budover in the fourth race being $10.00. Today women will be guests of the Racing Association and many are expected to flock to the track and try their luck at picking the winners.

TOTEM TOBACCO RATED AS FINEST

"Foreign cows wear long horns" as the saying goes, and there will always be doubting Thomases to whom doubt is a virtue. But the success of British Columbia at the Regina Fair in exhibits both of industry and produce must awaken in the citizens of this province a sense of the agrarian possibilities of British Columbia. A splendid object lesson of a C.O.'s ability to compete with all-comers is afforded in the astonishing results obtained in tobacco culture. Sprouting from the soil of this province, a young army of tobacco plants rears itself strongly, a newcomer to the industrial life of the province. In the Sumas Valley, the Totem Tobacco Plantation, now in process of harvesting, is a sight to behold. Consisting of Virginia flue-cured tobacco, it is pronounced the best in Canada by no other authority than Inspector MacRae of the Experimental Farm, Tobacco Division, Ottawa. Totem Tobacco is a high-grade product, expertly blended. A trial of the British Columbia product will convince the most confirmed skeptic that it equals, if not exceeds, anything from eastern tobacco-growing areas. Tobacco producing is 100% labor. To give this local product a fair trial is to make a direct contribution to the economic welfare of the province. Totem tobacco wrappers have a cash value, redeemable in any quantity at 634 Howe street, Vancouver, B.C.

QUEEN OF PROSSER WINS

The favorite Queen of Prosser won the fifth race handily. Rufe McClain was second and Dawn Breeze third. Queen of Prosser, always close or on top, took a commanding lead on the last turn on the second time around and won by about four lengths. Rufe McClain was an easy second, while Dawn Breeze just nosed out Purty Shot in taking the show berth.

Silver Bond made a show of his field in winning the sixth race by eight lengths. Pelaka was second, a few lengths in front of Tiny Captain, who finished third. The race was a procession, the field being well strung out and several lengths separating the runners.

ZELMA MAC WINS

Percy Fox's Zelma Mac, a consistent performer lately, took the final race after making every post a winner. Eastko was second and Barrie Oliver third. Zelma Mac went to the front from the start and was hard-headed throughout her win. Eastko was always second. Barrie Oliver was a good third. The saddle on Highway slipped.

Japanese Nine Earns Right to Face Canadians

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14 (CP)—Fast work on the path laid Asahis to take two games from Shores Jewellers and win the Terminal Baseball League championship here tonight. The double-header was played in order to declare a winner to play against Victoria in the provincial play-offs here Friday and Saturday nights. Both games were thrillers. Asahis took the opener, 4-3, and the second, 3-2. Jack Bourne hurled both games for the losers. Ty Suga and Mickey Malakawa did the hurling for the victors. Shores collected fourteen hits in the first game and seven in the second, but their errors were costly. Asahis only made four singles in the first battle and three in the second. They ran wild on the paths.

Leo Derman Captures Caddies' Golf Crown

Youngster Shoots Fine 78 for a Net 73 to Win Royal Colwood Club Title—Comte J. de Suzannet Presents Prizes to Winners

Shooting close to perfect figures all the way, Leo Derman captured the caddies' championship of the Royal Colwood Golf Club yesterday by touring the long and difficult course in 78, which his 5 handicap reduced to a net 73. Derman's fine card gave him the crown by a lone stroke over E. Townsend. The new champion played sound golf on both nines, hitting his drives straight up the fairways and bashing his irons close to the greens, while his putter remained true throughout. Derman succeeds R. Howard as champion, who failed to turn in his card. Following the tourney, Comte J. de Suzannet presented the prizes and congratulated the winner on his fine performance. The youngsters wish to thank the members who contributed to the prize list and women members who acted as scorers. In third place came L. Baker with a net 78, while R. Spavin took fourth place with an 82 and B. Quinney, S. Haylock and H. Haylock tied for next position on net 85. The rest of the field was well bunched, with only four failing to turn in cards.

LOCAL SQUAD WORKING OUT EACH EVENING

Canadian Rugger Training Hard for Opening of Season—Many Candidates

One week tomorrow and the curtain will once again rise on the Canadian Rugby season in the "Big Four" League in British Columbia. This year the officials are running the schedule different to any previous season. Two play-off series will take place with Victoria facing New Westminster and Mer- alomas tackling the Vancouver Athletic Club. The former clubs will meet in a two-game total-point series, while the latter squads will battle it out in a two-out-of-three series. Survivors in each series will meet for the British Columbia crown and the right to represent the province in the Canadian play-downs.

Getting back to the local end of the game, the fans are asking themselves what chances Victoria has in this season's campaign. Little has been released on the Capital City rugger so far this year, but here is a little information gathered the other day from Dr. John Sturdy, who has been drilling the boys every evening at the Royal Athletic Park. For the

Wahmonie Breaks Track Record in Winnipeg Feature

Winnipeg, Sept. 14 (CP)—Wahmonie, of the A.C.T. Stock Farm, Vancouver, broke the track record for a mile and seventy yards today at Whittier Park when he won the St. Boniface Handicap in 1:45 2-5, clipping one-fifth of a second from the previous mark made by Jack Blener. Mid was second, and Blue Day, of the Tarn entry, third.

The winner, because of his win earlier in the week, was slightly better than an even-money favorite.

On the Job Is Destroyed at Willows Track

ON the Job, a consistent performer in many long-distance races, was destroyed here yesterday morning. The horse never won a race but was usually in the money. He was formerly owned by Ruth Parton and trained by Lorne Copenhaver. On the job tore the ligaments of his leg recently and veterinarians ordered him to be destroyed.

past ten days the Victoria candidates have been going through their paces and hope to put New Westminster out of the running in the two-game series.

TRAINING METHODS

Every evening at 5:45 the squad gathers at the local enclosure for an hour's workout. The team has been learning to block, tackle and to charge to develop the maximum effectiveness during a game. For an hour last night candidates for line positions were hard at it charging through the line and blocking. The backfield was practicing punting, catching and running back the ball. After that the whole team lined up across the field and practised starting with the purpose of building up the leg muscles for driving. Up and down the field the boys went, stopping and starting when the signal was called.

There is a lot of new material on hand and several of the candidates are adapting themselves to the Canadian code in great fashion. With constant training sessions the local squad should be in perfect condition when the opening game is called. All former players and fans are invited to attend the workouts at the Athletic Park and get a glimpse of the team before they swing into action.

Some of the players noticed at the training sessions follow: Gribbie, Colgate, McMinis, Gaunt, Bipe, Lemm, Dowell, Laits, Ferguson, Hall, F. Stewart, Graham, McDonald, Howell, Fluerido, Martez, Rogers, J. Roberia, Paul and Rowe.

Securities Show Firmer Trend at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP).—After extracting further nourishment from inflation gossip and credit expansion possibilities, today's stock and commodity markets backed down from their early highs today and closing prices represented generally small net changes.

Shares developed considerable fervor in the first hour, which saw a liberal assortment of 1 to 5-point advances. Profit taking promptly toned the market down, and although it tried another around noon, the trend, with few exceptions, was toward lower levels thereafter, as traders took profits.

Sales reached the best volume of the month, 2,897,100 shares. The averages were up two-tenths of a point.

Industrial shares were prominent during the market's upturn. Chrysler, General Motors and a number of lower-priced issues, including Kellogg, Canada Dry and McCormick, traded briskly. Steels were rather hesitant, U.S. Steel losing a fraction on the day.

Rails were steady at the close after an early flurry. Homestake Mining jumped nearly 19, a gain which other metals could not approach, though U.S. Smelting hopped up more than 7 to a new high for the year.

A demand for specialties gave the bond market an improved appearance today, although prime investment group generally showed little enthusiasm for the advance.

The more active rail gainers of fractions to 2 or more points included some lines of Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, St. Paul, Chicago & Western Indiana, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Great Northern, Missouri-Pacific, Frisco & Southern.

The Argentines led the foreign division with advances of 4 to around 6 points. Issues of Dutch East Indies, Denmark, France, Japan and Switzerland moved up 1 to 2 or more. Other foreign loans were irregular.

Leading Stocks Give Strong Display at Eastern Exchange

MONTREAL, Sept. 14 (CP).—Montreal Stock Exchange listings presented a firm front during today's session as a result of encouragement from New York, where inflationary moves were the stimulus for an upward trend.

A few issues recorded gains up to nearly 3 points. Beverage stocks which held the spotlight yesterday were in quieter moods today, but Canadian Industrial Alcohol retained the activity leadership.

Both Alcohol issues were down 1-4, the "A" at 213-4 and the "B" at 191-2. On the curb Walker rose 1-2 points and Distillers-Seargan lost a fraction. National Breweries, yesterday's strong spot, lost 1-2 at 271-2.

International Nickel moved up 50 cents at 21-3/4, while Canadian Pacific Railway at 143-8 and Canadian Pacific Railway at 167-8 were both 1-8 higher.

The largest advance of the day was recorded by Canadian Celanese, common, which rose 2-3 points at 253-4. Consolidated Smelters, Shawinigan Power, Dominion Bridge, McColl-Fontenac and Winnipeg Electric were among the issues to advance fractions.

Bank of Commerce lost 5 points at 130-7-1/2.

Sales, 31,306 shares; bonds, $1,500.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

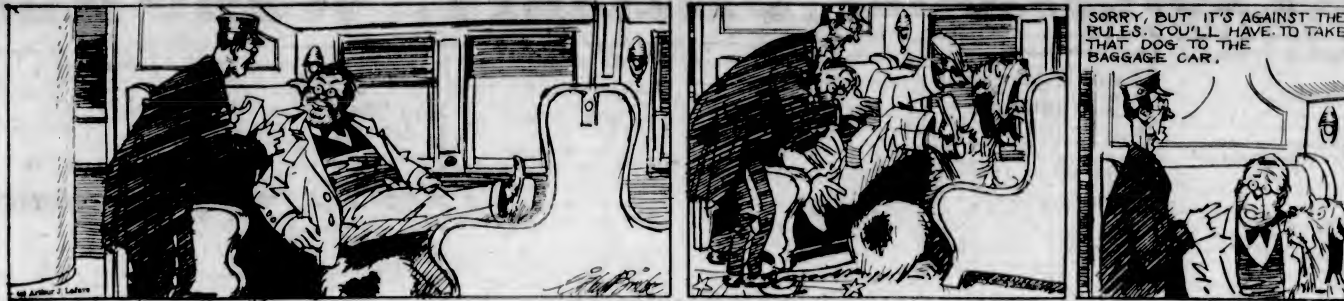

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP).—While industrial stocks maintained a bullish note throughout most of the day they had considerable profit-taking to contend with in the afternoon.

In many cases the early gains were lost. Thirty-one stocks closed lower, twenty-one higher and twenty-three unchanged.

STARTING SCHOOL LIFE
A clergyman tells a humorous, yet not wholly humorous, story of a mother who called him up one morning and in a tearful voice told him that she had lost her six-year-old son.

"Why, what's happened?" was the clergyman's excited question. "He started school this morning."

We are inclined to smile at this, but the school life of a child as he first begins to meet and mix with others in an orderly schoolroom is a tremendous change from his life at home.

What do we find at home? The youngster fills a large place in the home. He is beloved by his parents and loves them. Every real need in his life is met, and many things he wants are given him; he is absolutely dependent on the parents for everything. He is protected as much as possible indoors and out.

What about school life? He is no longer under the protection, care, and advice of his parents during his hours at school. He is just one of a number of little boys and girls with no special privileges. He must obey the teacher instead of his own desires or fancies. He learns to like or love the teacher in addition to his love for his mother and father.

He learns also that he must give some of his possessions—pencils, books, apples, candies—to other youngsters if he expects to receive any of their possessions. Instead of being protected all the time he is expected to do some protecting of weaker or younger children.

You can thus see that a child going to school for the first time, is, in a sense, lost to the mother because he now has all these other factors in his life. He is now really launched into the great life of the world, and the school teacher takes over all the responsibility during the school day of directing the child's life so as to make him a useful citizen, with no little mental twists and peculiarities that will interfere with his welfare.

WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE

By EDWIN BALMER & FIELD WYLLIE

CHAPTER XI

"The rest of the world?" Tony repeated Hendron's inquiry. "I don't know much about the rest of the world. What I do know I'll tell you, but the information is garbled, contradictory and unreliable. For one thing, many of the European nations are still foolishly trying to protect their borders, and so on. In fact, I wouldn't be at all surprised if they fell to fighting. There seems to be small thought of co-operation, and they stick fiercely to national lines."

"England's labor troubles fostered the minute she tried to institute compulsory work for those who tended her utilities. I believe London was without power or light for five or six days. There was a vast amount of sabotage. The police fought battles through Piccadilly and Trafalgar Square with armed mobs."

"Australia and Canada, on the other hand, acted very much as the United States has acted. They got down to brass tacks, and are doing what they can for and with their people. So is South Africa. The French are very gay about it, and very mad. The whole country is filled with sputtering ineffective people. They're playing politics for all it's worth, and new cabinets come and go, sometimes at the rate of three a day, without ever getting anything accomplished at all. But at least they have kept functioning as a nation. In Germany a few Communists were killed; and so were a few Jews."

"Mussolini is struggling to keep his control—so far, with success. As for Russia, little is known. Of course it is a terrible blow to the Soviet. I believe the government is carrying on rather bitterly, but as best it can. China is still just about it. In South America the news has served merely to augment the regular crop of revolutions."

Tony put down his fork. "That's all I know." He reached for a cigarette and lighted it. "What to expect tomorrow or a week from tomorrow, no one can say. Since it's impossible to tell how high tides will be, how far inland they will rush, and what areas will be devastated, and since not even the best guess will be any indication whatsoever of where the land may rise, where it may fall, and what portion of it will witness eruptions and quakes, it may be that even the gigantic stops being made by some governments will be futile."

After dinner Leighton ushered Randall into the apartment. Tony was furious. He had hoped to have Eve to himself. How he had hoped to have her, and with what further satisfaction, he did not define, but at least he knew that he wanted Randall away.

"He had flown five or six times to Washington for father," Eve explained. "And he's wonderful in the laboratory. He has a genius for mechanics."

"The South African listened to this account of himself with embarrassment, and Tony realized that under any other circumstances he would have liked him. In fact, originally Tony had liked David Randall immensely—until he had realized that he also was to go with him—and with Eve—on the Space Ship!"

Brighter and brighter, and higher and higher, each night the strange star stood in the southern skies. Indeed, one ceased to resemble a star at all and appeared, instead, as a small full moon which grew balefully each night, and now the other also showed a disc even to the naked eye.

Each night also they altered position slightly, relatively to each other. For the gravitational control of the larger—Bronson Alpha—swung the smaller Bronson Beta, about it in an orbit like that of the moon about the earth.

Their plan approach paralyzed enterprise on the earth. Throughout the civilized world two professions above all others adhered most universally to their calling: day and night, in the face of famine, blood, fire, disaster and every conceivable form of human anguish, doctors and surgeons clung steadfast to their high calling, and day and night amid the weltering change of conditions and in the glut of fabulous alarms and reports, the men who gathered news and printed it labored to fulfill their purposes.

Tony saw more of the world's activities than most of its citizens at this time. He had scarcely returned from his first tour of the Eastern cities when he was sent out again, this time to the Middle and Far West. The journey was arduous because of the increasing difficulties of travel. The railroads Brighter and Brighter, and Higher and Higher, Each Night the Strange Stars Stood in the Southern Skies. Indeed, One Ceased to Resemble a Star at All.

were moving the Pacific and the Atlantic civilizations inland, and passenger trains ran on uneasy schedules. He saw the vast accumulation of freight in the mid-western depots. He saw the horizon-filling settlements being prepared. He saw the breath-taking reaches of prairie which had been put under cultivation to feed the new herds in the high flat country north and west of Kansas.

Along the Pacific coast he observed the preparations being made for the withdrawal from the western ocean. Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego were digging up their roads. Millionaires drove eastward in great limousines with their most priceless treasures heaped around them.

Tony's work was varied. He continued to send back by ones and twos those scientists whose co-operation Hendron desired and the flower of the young men and women who might be useful in the event of a great cataclysm.

Hendron's own ideas were still uncrystallized; he felt with increasing intensity the need for gathering together the best brains, the healthiest bodies and the staunchest hearts that could be found. He had a variety of plans. He had founded two stations in the United States and was in the process of equipping them for all emergencies. Under the best conditions the probability of his group might divide into two parts and move to those stations, there to remain until the first crisis passed so that afterward they could emerge as leaders in the final effort against doom.

Under the pressure of the impending destruction, his scientists had pushed their experiments in obtaining power from atomic disintegration to a point where the power of the atom could be utilized, within limits, as a propulsive force. Hendron had thereupon succeeded in bombarding the surface of the moon with a projectile that was, in its essentials, a small rocket. He had settled the problems of hull composition, insulation and aeration, which would arise in such a vessel if made in a size to be occupied by men. He had devised rockets which could be directed. He had constructed a rocket with vents at both ends so that a discharge in the opposite direction would break its fall. Several such rockets he actually dispatched under remote control, hurtling many miles into the air, turning, descending part way under full force of their steam "engines," and checking their fall by forward discharges at the end of their flight, so that their actual landing had not destroyed even the delicate instruments they contained.

The chief problem that remained unsolved was a metal sufficiently resistant to the awful force Hendron employed. Even the experimental rockets often failed in their flight because the heat generated by the atomic combustion within them melted and blew away the "ails intended to retain it. So, at the Hendron laboratories, the world's metallurgists concentrated their efforts upon finding an alloy capable of withstanding the temperatures and pressures involved in employing atomic energy as a driving force.

Tony visited both of Hendron's stations. One was in Michigan and one in New Mexico. He brought back reports on the progress being made there in the construction of laboratories, machine-shops and armories.

He found Hendron sleepless and "ly calm in the midst of his multitudinous enterprises. But Eve showed the strain more than her father, and during the evening, which they spent together, she expressed her fear: "The greatest hope was that his ship would be successful. There is more information than has been given out about the Bronson studies. We admit that they will come very close, terribly close. We do not admit yet precisely how close."

They were standing together on the balcony overlooking the brightly lighted and still noisy city. Their arms were locked together in defiance of their oath to the league.

"He'll succeed," Tony said. "He has succeeded, except that every rocket he builds is limited in the distance it can fly and the power it can use by the fact that its propulsive tubes melt. There isn't a metal nor an alloy in the world that will withstand that heat."

Tony did not answer. After a long silence she spoke again. "It's an awful thing, Tony. Look down there. Look down on the city. Think of the people. Look at the lights, and then imagine water, mountains of it, water that would reach to here."

"Don't torture yourself, Eve."

"I can't help it. Oh, Tony, just think of it!"

"Well, that's the way things have to be, Eve." He could not say any more.

When Tony went down, the street was still filled with people. All the people were talking. They talked, but it did not seem to matter to them what direction they took or what chance company they shared. The strange small moon, growing larger each night, shone palely in the sky.

Tony hailed a cab. His eyes settled on his shoes when he sat at the wheel. Into every thought darted the face of Eve as he had last seen it—a face growing hourly more haggard. He remembered the deepening of her eyes.

"Ma boots were guaranteed for four months," said Mac to the boot-maker. "An' I've only had 'em six weeks, an' they need easing."

"But they seem to fit."

"Aye, they're fine on me, but tight for ma brother on night shift."

DESCRIBES TOUR THROUGH STATES

Herbert J. Pendray Gives Travel Talk to Fellow Members of Rotary at Lunch.

Rotarian Herbert J. Pendray was the speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Victoria Rotary Club, at the Empress Hotel, yesterday noon. Mr. Pendray gave an outline of his three months' tour of the Empire State Building. They also visited at Washington, Providence, and the famous Coney Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendray left Victoria on June 7 and proceeded across to Vancouver, and from there they traveled direct to Port William, where they boarded a steamer for the cruise down the lakes, passing through the Soo locks and on to Port McNicol, and from there they went to Toronto, Niagara Falls to Kingston, and from there down the Lachine and on to Montreal.

Crossing from Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Pendray spent several days in Boston, and from there they went to New York and got a glimpse of the metropolitan city from the top of the Empire State Building. They also visited at Washington, Providence, and the famous Coney Island.

where thousands of people had gathered to escape the mid-summer heat of the crowded cities.

After leaving New York, Mr. and Mrs. Pendray went to Chicago for a few days at the Century of Progress Exposition, and then across the Middle and Western States to the Pacific, returning to Victoria early in September.

Willie—"Pa, what is a politician?"
Father—"Son, a politician is a human machine with a wagging tongue."
Then, what is a statesman?"
"It is an ex-politician who has mastered the art of holding his tongue."
